SAILS FROM PORTSMOUTH IN H. M. S. INDOMITABLE

Earl of Dudley Accompanies His Highness—Cruiser Minotaur as Escort.

KING'S MESSAGE TO SIR WILFRID LAURIER

(Special to the Times).

London, Eng., July 15.—It is stated that the Prince of Wales carries a special message from the King expressing his appreciation for the services of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and that an offer of a peerage may be renewed.

London, July 15.—The Prince of Wales and his suite sailed from Portsmouth to-day on board the Indomitable, Great Britain's new cruiser battleship, to attend the forthcoming fetes at Quebec in honor of the founding of the city three hundred years ago by Champlain.

Among those who bade farewell to the Prince at Waterloo station, was Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, High Commissioner for Canada. The Earl of Dudley and Sir Francis J. S. Hopwood are travelling with the Prince. Sir Francis represents the colonial office and the Earl of Dudley, who is going to take up the governor-generalship of the Australian commonwealth, will represent Australia at the Canadian celebration.

The departure of the Indomitable from Portsmouth was without formality beyond the firing of salutes from the old flagship Victoria as the new cruiser battleship, followed by the escorting cruiser Minotaur, left the harbor.

There has been some talk of the Indomitable, which is capable of going twenty-seven knots an hour, trying to give the trans-Atlantic liners a new record to emulate, but it is understood that if anything in this direction is attempted, it will be on the return journey.

BIG MERGER OF MONTREAL UTILITIES

New York, July 15.—The Times to-day says: Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury, and until last season the president of the Carnegie Trust Company, was at his office yesterday, after a trip to Montreal, which Wall Street heard was for the purpose of forming a forty million dollar merger of Canadian public utilities.

Mr. Shaw said yesterday that the projected merger remained in the nebulous stage, and he did not care to discuss his trip to Montreal.

The Montreal merger was first talked of about a year ago, when Mr. Shaw took up a consolidation plan while president of the trust company. It was then proposed to merge the Montreal Power Company and the Montreal Street Railway Company. The scheme was dropped after preliminary negotiations had been started, and had been resting until Mr. Shaw's recent trip to Canada.

INDICTED MAN DROPS DEAD IN SUBWAY

Thomas Jordan, Author of "Yellow Dog" Fund, Escapes the Law.

New York, July 15.—Thomas Jordan, formerly sub-comptroller of the Equitable Life Association, dropped dead of heart disease yesterday in the Wall street station of the subway. Scores of persons saw him fall, among them a medical friend, who hurried to the side of his stricken friend, but he saw immediately that Mr. Jordan was dead. Before the body had been removed by the police the news of Mr. Jordan's death had reached the financial district, a few blocks away, and many men prominent in the financial world were at the police station when the body arrived.

Mr. Jordan was well known in Wall street as a director and officer in many large corporations. It was in the course of the Armstrong committee insurance investigation that his name came prominently before the public. It was brought out then that Comptroller Jordan had secured loans aggregating $685,000 for himself, and James W. Alexander, former president of the Equitable, from the Mercantile Trust Company, and that these loans had been covered up on the books of the company. This $685,000 came to be known as the "Yellow Dog" fund. A desire was expressed by the Armstrong committee that Jordan appear before the committee and explain his financial management of the Equitable, but the process servers were unable to locate Mr. Jordan. Mr. Jordan's son was called before the committee and asked to tell where his father was. The young man said he did not know, and when further questioned said he did not know whether his father was dead or alive.

It was after the Armstrong committee investigation had come to a close that Jordan put in an appearance. It was then learned that he had been in Europe. As a result of the disclosures made before the Armstrong committee the grand jury found 18 indictments, four for forgery and one for perjury, against Mr. Jordan.

Only recently Mr. Jordan appeared before Justice Goff in the criminal branch of the Supreme court to plead not guilty to the indictments. His trial was set for the fall term of the criminal branch.

TOLSTOI MAKES PASSIONATE CRY

INHUMAN VIOLENCE OF RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT

Writer Describes Executions in Gruesome Detail—His Noble Appeal.

London, July 15.—The Daily Chronicle to-day prints three close columns of the most passionate and severe indictment of the present system of government in Russia, ever penned by Count Leo Tolstoi, the Russian author, in which he shows all his old vivid skill. The article concludes with a noble appeal to the better nature of his countrymen.

The count writes: "I can no longer endure it. I write this either that these inhuman deeds may be stopped or that my connection with them may be snapped and I be put in prison, where I may clearly confess that these horrors are not committed on my behalf, or, still better—so good that I dare not even dream of such happiness—that they may put on me, as on those ten or twelve peasants, a shroud and cap and may push me also off a bench so that by my own weight I may tighten the well soaped noose around my own throat."

After describing wholesale executions in gruesome detail, Count Tolstoi says: "All this is carefully arranged and planned by the learned and enlightened people of the upper class. They arrange to do these things secretly at daybreak, and they so sub-divide the responsibility for these iniquities among those who commit them that each may disclaim responsibility. And not the dreadful things alone are done, but all sorts of other tortures and violence are perpetrated in the prisons, fortresses and convict establishments, not impulsively under the sway of feelings as happens in war, but on the contrary at the demand of reason and calculation silencing feeling. What is most dreadful in the whole matter of this inhuman violence and killing beside the direct evil to the victims is that it brings yet more enormous evil on the whole people by spreading depravity among every class of Russians."

Tolstoi instances the shocking spread of greed among ruffians to obtain money by executing condemned prisoners, and says: "Awful as are the deeds themselves, the moral and spiritual and unseen evil they produce is incomparably more horrible. With regard to the government's contention that there is no other way to suppress the revolutionists, Count Tolstoi, while admitting that the revolutionists crimes are stupid and responsible, accuses the government of doing the same thing for the same motive, and adds, that all the revolutionists' bombardings and murders do not come anywhere near the criminality or stupidity of the deeds the government commits.

Tolstoi argues at length that both the revolutionists and the Russian government are pursuing the same objects by the same criminal means, and that if there is any difference it is in favor of the revolutionists.

FRASER FLOOD SPREADS RUIN AMONG CROPS

Area of 30,000 Acres Inundated—Serious Loss to Ranchers.

TABRIZ UNDER MARTIAL LAW

SITUATION IS ONE OF GREAT GRAVITY

Army of Shah Overawes Populace—Guerilla Warfare in Streets.

London, July 15.—A correspondent of the Times at Tabriz, under yesterday's date, says: "I arrived safely after some almost desperate vicissitudes, and find the situation here one of great gravity for the inhabitants, but there is no direct danger for Europeans. On my way to this city I myself was seized and carried four miles by Rachi Khan's horsemen, but was eventually released and conducted to Tabriz.

The Shah has placed Rachid Khan in chief command of the troops with exceptional powers to disarm the people and restore order. The latter has 12,500 men under him, while opposed to his forces are 400 revolutionary devotees, backed by such of the populace as were compromised in the recent constitutional movement.

Rachid Khan yesterday closed all the exits of the town and attempted to reduce the number of revolutionists. Desultory street fighting occurred throughout the day and still continues, but the issues of this guerilla fighting are still indefinite."

ANOTHER MISHAP TO ZEPPELIN AIRSHIP

Aged Inventor is Compelled to Postpone 24-Hour Trial.

Friederichshaven, July 15.—Another accident to Count Zeppelin's balloon this morning will prevent the possibility of the 24-hour trip which was scheduled for to-day.

The damage caused yesterday to the mammoth airship by a defect to the steering gear, had been fully repaired and Count Zeppelin had decided to start on his 24-hour flight this morning.

Following this programme the balloon was brought out of its shed at 11 o'clock. When the order to cast off was given and sufficient headway had been acquired to permit proper steering, a gust of wind blew the entire airship against the side of the floating shed. Twenty yards of the outer rubber-covered sack covering was torn away and the side propeller was bent, the balloon remained hanging in this position for ten minutes and its stern resting on the water. It was eventually freed from this position and towed back to the shed. An inspection of the damage was made after which it was announced that it would take a week to fix repairs.

TEXAN MOB CHASES NEGRO.

Thousand People Scour Woods to Revenge Outrage on Young Girl.

Beaumont, Tex., July 15.—Last night a posse of over 1,000 scoured the woods in this vicinity in an effort to capture an unidentified negro who early yesterday attacked and beat into insensibility at 13-year-old white girl, Ada Bell Hopkins, inflicting injuries which may prove fatal. It was the intention of the mob to inflict quick punishment.

Late yesterday an aged negro was mistaken for the one wanted and was caught and shot to death. Last night the mob burned two negro amusement resorts, and threatened to destroy other buildings occupied by negroes in the vicinity of the scene of the crime.

RACING AUTO WITH DEAD MAN AT WHEEL

Beyond Power of Law When Arrested by New York Policeman.

New York, July 15.—Bicycle Policeman Carley saw an auto with two men in it flash past him on Ocean Park way late last night and ordered the driver to stop. When no attention was paid to the order he leaped on his wheel and gave chase. After a pursuit of many blocks and when the auto had almost reached Coney he overtook it.

"You are under arrest," he said to the man sitting at the wheel.

There was no response.

Carley climbed into the auto and found the driver was dead.

The other man in the machine was J. D. Lord, of Jamaica, L. I. He managed to bring the auto to a standstill. The driver was S. W. Anderson, of Brooklyn. He purchased the car he was driving earlier in the day and this was the first time it had been out.

DEEP LAID PLOT AGAINST CZAR'S LIFE

The railway station is guarded by Cossacks and gendarmes and the frontier is being closely watched, and it would be impossible to cross the boundary line without being discovered.

MINERS LIKELY TO VOTE FOR BRYAN

President Moyer Delivers Gloomy Speech on Labor's Outlook in States.

Denver, Colo., July 15.—For the first time in the history of the organization, the convention of the Western Federation of Miners was thrown open to the entire public yesterday, and all sessions until the final adjournment will also be public. Last year organized labor and press representatives were admitted, but not the general public.

The feature was President Moyer's annual report and address.

President Moyer's report condemns in strong language the sending of United States troops by President Roosevelt into the Goldfield district during the strike last fall, and in concluding refers to the political situation as follows: "There has just adjourned in this city the national convention of one of the old political parties. Before the committees of this convention there appeared labor representatives praying that there might be inserted in the Democratic platform an anti-injunction plank. Their prayer was granted, and it is now for the voters of the United States to decide whether or not this party should be placed in power.

"Far be it from me to say or do anything that might interfere with labor's efforts to temporarily better its condition, but have we any reason to expect an interpretation of these laws favorable to labor if they be enacted?

"Mr. Mitchell is quoted as being particularly gratified at having included in the plank the right of workers to organize. When we remember that federal judges by their interpretation of the laws have vested supreme power in the executive of a state, and declared that no court could inquire into his acts, and when, as Mr. Mitchell says, the supreme court of the land has so construed the laws as to make it a crime for labor to organize, what have we to hope for by placing further laws on the statute book?"

BRITONS WIN AT OLYMPIC GAMES

U. S. EASILY BEATEN IN THREE-MILE TEAM RACE

Longboat Does Not Compete In Five-mile Event—To-day's Results.

London, July 15.—The weather again this morning gave promise of treating the Olympic games in a more kindly fashion but clouds are still hovering in the sky and this to some extent explains the slimness of the attendance. There were not more than a hundred persons in attendance, in addition to the competitors, and the officials present, when the first event, the javelin throwing, and the first heat of the 100 kilometre cycling race started.

In the programme to-day there were three finals scheduled: the three-mile team race, the 660-yard cycling race, and the 200-metres tandem cycle race. Interest centred in the team race, in which three teams representing the United Kingdom, France and the United States, qualified yesterday for the final.

Canadian in Five-Mile Race.

London, July 15.—(Later.)—In the Olympic championships to-day the United Kingdom won the three-mile race and the 660-yard cycle race, giving her so far four gold medals to two for the United States. Sweden won her first gold medal to-day in the javelin throw, E. V. Lemming breaking his own record. The Scandinavians also made an astonishing showing in the preliminaries of the five-mile run. Three Canadians, Meadows, Fitzgerald and Galbraith, qualified for the finals in this event. The attendance was much larger than yesterday.

Three Mile Team Race.

Final Result.

The final in the 3-mile team race was won by the United Kingdom, the United States was second. Time, 14 minutes 39 3-5 seconds.

The United Kingdom 3-mile team was composed of H. A. Watson, A. J. Robertson, J. E. Deakin, N. F. Hallows and W. Coales. The United States team was composed of Geo. V. Bonhag, G. A. Dull, J. L. Eisele, H. L. Trube, and Harvey Cohn. The French team consisted of four men only.

The United Kingdom won comparatively easily. With the crack of the pistol, Deakin, Robertson Cowles and Wilson jumped to the front with Bonhag fifth. Coming into the home stretch on the first lap, however, another wearer of the stars and stripes, the long striding Eisele made a bid for a better position and slipping alongside of Bonhag took sixth place. Both men were running easily with plenty of reserve. France was already out of the race. Bouin, who ran so well yesterday retired before the conclusion of the first lap.

After concluding the first circle, Eisele went right to the front, but Deakin, the English cross country champion, challenged for the place, and getting to the pole led the way for his team mates. By this time the field had divided into two sections, Eisele leading the second lot with Dull and Cohn close at hand, and Trube and Bonhag bringing up the rear.

Eisele managed to get up to the first section, which now was leading the second section by forty yards. The second section was made up of Bonhag, Dull, Cohn, Hallows, the Oxford crack, and Trube, in the order named. Eisele apparently was the only American who could compete with the Englishmen at long distance running. He took second place in the sixth lap, but could not maintain it, and soon dropped back to fourth, in which position he finished a yard behind Cowles, Deakin and Robertson, who were respectively first and second, had a good lead. Wilson got fifth place, Bonhag sixth and Hallows, seventh.

RELEASED FROM JAIL.

Man Convicted of Complicity in Theft of Watch Goes Free.

This forenoon Chief Justice Hunter granted orders of certiorari and habeas corpus in the case of Frederick Norris Harrison, convicted on May 4th of being associated with Beatrice Hottowe in the theft of a watch from John Curtis at the Atlantic hotel on the evening of May 1st. Both were convicted and each given a year in jail. At the time of their arrest the two were living together as man and wife although, when brought to the police station, they admitted that they were not married but announced their willingness to have the ceremony performed by Jailer Allen, the woman producing the necessary license, which they had procured a few days previously.

When the application for a writ of certiorari came up this morning, Mr. G. H. Barnard, K. C., who appeared for the magistrate, announced that he would not oppose it, and necessary orders for the man's release were made. No attempt was made to free the woman.

C. W. Bradshaw, of Bradshaw & Davie, appeared for Harrison.

—The schooner Lottie Bennett, which has yet 400 tons of salt to discharge, will be towed to Nanaimo to put it off.

STEVE ADAMS IS FOUND NOT GUILTY

ESTELLE CARROLL AGAIN BEATS POLICE

Chief Justice Quashes Conviction on Charge of Keeping Disorderly House.

Once more has Estelle Carroll beaten the police in their efforts to secure a conviction against her on the charge of keeping a disorderly house. Recently she was convicted and fined $50 on the charge on the evidence of two detectives brought over from Vancouver for the purpose; and of members of the local police as to her being the occupant of the house in question, and as to its reputation. This morning Chief Justice Hunter granted a writ of certiorari, for which application had been made by J. A. Aikman. Following the conviction now quashed Estelle Carroll was also found guilty of selling liquor without a license and fined $200. Mr. Aikman applied for a writ of certiorari in this latter case also, but this application was refused, and the fine stands unless Mr. Aikman takes an appeal, which he may do.

Magistrate Jay was represented by G. H. Barnard, K. C., in both cases, while Mr. Aikman appeared in support of both applications. The liquor case was taken up first, and the conviction confirmed.

Then came the application to quash the conviction for keeping a disorderly house. Mr. Aikman said that while it was admitted that unlawful acts had taken place in the house in question, still there was nothing to show that Estelle Carroll had a knowledge of them, nor had indiscriminate prostitution been shown.

Mr. Barnard in reply said that there was the evidence of the local police as to the reputation of the house, backed up by evidence of lewd and unlawful acts. There was the evidence of the local police also as to Estelle Carroll being the proprietor of the place in question. It was to be presumed that the woman would know what was going on in her own home. If a conviction could not be secured on the evidence submitted in this case it would be impossible to secure evidence that would convict on such a charge.

Mr. Barnard undertook to quote an Ontario judgment in a similar case, when the Chief Justice broke in with: "They do things in Ontario that I don't approve of."

The chief justice referring to the case said that it was just as necessary to prove a case of this kind in the proper legal way as any other. In this case, while, as Mr. Barnard had said, lewd and unlawful acts had been proved there was absolutely nothing to prove that Estelle Carroll had a guilty knowledge of them. There was no doubt but what these women lived in this house, but it was possible that the defendant in this case had no knowledge of their committing any crime in her place. She had been absent on two of the occasions referred to in the evidence and there was nothing to show that she knew of any crime being committed on the one occasion on which she was present. Women of bad character might live in a boarding house, for example, without making the owner of the place liable for prosecution as the keeper of a bawdy house. In concluding the chief justice said: "I don't think that if I were the magistrate I would have convicted on this evidence. It is altogether too dangerous a thing to convict on reputation as had been largely done in this case. There are other houses in the city which were used as disorderly houses for years, the reputation of which suffered a blackeye for a long time afterwards. It would not be possible to sustain a charge of keeping a disorderly house against the present occupants of such places. Further than this, I cannot see where it has been shown that Estelle Carroll had a guilty knowledge of any wrongdoing in this case."

Following this his lordship made the formal order, quashing this conviction and sustaining the one for selling liquor without a license.

—The popularity of the rate war between the C. P. R. and the Inland Navigation Company continues to be demonstrated. The low rate on the Princess Victoria attracted a crowd of 988 over on the flyer to-day. The Chippewa brought 476, including a Sunday school excursion in connection with St. Luke's church, Seattle. The total number of visitors on the two boats was 1,414.

SUCCESSFUL TRIAL OF FISHERIES STEAMER

New Boat Had Run at Nanaimo Yesterday—Capt. Laird Appointed.

Nanaimo, July 14.—The new Dominion government fisheries steamer which has been built at Dobeson's foundry, this city, was given a trial trip this afternoon with Inspector Thomson, of Victoria, aboard and proved very satisfactory. The steamer will be for the use in Inspector Taylor's district, the size and growing importance of which require a steamer constantly in connection therewith. The vessel was built on the hull of the schooner North which was seized by the government about two years ago on the west coast for poaching. The entire work on the boat has been done in Nanaimo at Dobeson's foundry and reflects great credit on the firm. The engines will develop a speed of ten knots and the steamer is a tidy looking craft, roomy and well adapted for her purpose, being very seaworthy which will stand her in good stead on the rough trips along the west coast during the winter months when the inspector's duties require his presence there very often. The boat has yet to receive the finishing touches and will not be turned over until these are done, when she will make a trip to Victoria. Nanaimo will be her home port and Capt. Laird, late of the Ladysmith Lumber Company's boat, will be master. He is well qualified for the position he is to hold.

STEAMER CARIBOO NOW DUE FROM CORONEL

Unless she has put into some port on the coast without being reported the new Union steamship Cariboo should make port shortly from Barry via the Horn. The Cariboo left Coronel a considerable time ago and is fully due in the strait. She will proceed to Vancouver.

To-morrow the Chargeurs-Reunis liner Amiral Magon is expected to reach port from the Orient.

The ship Falls of Dee, Capt. Blance, which left Coquimbo on May 7th for the Royal roads, is also fully due. The British ship Kynance, which sailed from Liverpool on April 5th for Vancouver, is due shortly. The British ship Inverclyde left Santos on July 6th for Royal roads.

—The Fifth Regiment Band will give a concert at Beacon Hill park this evening. The new cornet player who has attracted so much attention by his playing will be heard with them at to-night's concert.

—The school board is this afternoon inspecting the heating and ventilation apparatus in the new Victoria West school. The heating system is the usual hot air, while the ventilation is secured by the use of electric fans. The system is said to be one of the most modern in use anywhere.

The Boscowitz steamship Vadso sails to-night for northern ports.

R. M. S. Empress of India sails from the outer dock to-night for the Orient.

LACROSSE.

TO PLAY ROYAL CITY.

Montreal, July 14.—The New Westminster lacrosse team is expected to arrive here to-morrow morning. So far as known, the line-up of the Shamrocks in the matches is expected to be as follows:

Muir (Montreal), goal; Dillon, point; Kavanagh, cover point; Rochford, McIlwain and O'Reilly, defence; Nolan (Montreal), centre; Hennessy, Laviolette (National) and J. Brennan, home; P. Brennan, outside home; Hogan, inside home. It is not thought Secours, of the Nationals, will play, as he has played a championship game for the French Canadian team this season. Muir, Nolan and Iaviolette had given up the game.

THE AUTO.

GRAND PRIX.

The Grand Prix, the blue ribbon of the automobile world, was won by a German, Laughtenschlager, driving a Mercedes car, at Dieppe. His time was 6 hours 53 minutes 43 4-5 seconds, and his average rate of speed 69.05 miles per hour. Hemery, in a Benz, was second, and Hanriot, in another Benz, was third. Two men were killed outright.

Harrison, an English driver, was seriously injured, and removed to a hospital.

The German victory was not popular, still the immense crowd numbering nearly a million, cheered Laughtenschlager with right good-will. German cars also captured second and third places, while another German cut down the Dieppe track record by 1 hour and 45 minutes.

The race to-day was the most exciting since the Grand Prix was inaugurated. A terrific pace was set at the start, and three Frenchmen, Szisz, Thery and Bablot, and Wagner, an Italian; and Salzer, a German, beat the tape record made last year in the first round. In the second round Nazarro, driving a Fiat, forged to the lead, but the strain of the mad speed soon began to tell on the leaders. The trouble then developed and a strong wind, reaching half a gale, that blew straight in the faces of the drivers as they came down the sea-leg of the triangular course, forced a reduction of the pace, and put an end to the hopes entertained earlier in the day of breaking last year's record.

Laughtenschlager, in his Mercedes, drove steadily on, and when Nazarro dropped back, owing to a jammed clutch, the German maintained his position to the finish. The English drivers never were prominent, and Strang, the American, driving a Thomas car, after finishing the fourth round next to the leader, disappeared. After the fourth round the Italians also dropped out.

BASEBALL.

JUNIOR GAME.

The North Ward and Beacon Hill junior baseball nines will meet tonight at Beacon Hill in a nine innings argument, and the junior league will move one step nearer the pennant, for which there remain but two games to be played. As the defeat of the North Ward men may put them right out of the running, the game is sure to be full of interest. Both teams are confident that they have the right amount of ability to defeat the other, and the game will be a good one.

NAMES OF PROBABLE MINTO CUP PLAYERS

Shamrock Men Will Strive for Supremacy Once More on Tuesday.

The line-up of the Shamrock team to play the New Westminster twelve for the Minto cup is stated as follows: Muir (Montreal), goal; Dillon, point; Kavanagh, cover point; Rochford, McIlwain and O'Reilly, defence; Nolan (Montreal), centre; Hennessy, Laviolette (National), and J. Brennan, home; P. Brennan, outside home; Hogan, inside home.

There is a possibility that the team will be altered in one or two particulars, but these will not be decided upon till later. Three men in the above list had already given up the game and have not been playing in the Shamrock twelve this season. They will, however, play in the Minto cup contest, as the Shamrocks require the strongest aggregation they can put in the field. The three men mentioned are Muir, Nolan and Laviolette.

The latest reports are that the Eastern men are confident of retaining their hold on the Minto cup, and authorities on the Mainland say the match will be a hotly contested one, but that the men from New Westminster have an equal chance, and they look to see them bring the trophy home with them.

The first game will be played on Tuesday next.

THE CITY AND THE ESQUIMAULT COMPANY.

The Colonist says it has not spoken and does not speak upon the water question with the voice of the Esquimalt Water Works Company We accept the disclaimer unreservedly. But it is unfortunate for our contemporary that in its treatment of the subject it has contrived to convey a contrary impression, It has spoken and acted with the consistency of an advocate of the interests of the company as against the interests of the people of Victoria. In the first instance it called upon the council to insist upon the Esquimalt Water Works Company fulfilling its "statutory obligations." That is, the company should be required to deliver a certain number of gallons of water in the environs of Victoria at so much per thousand or million gallons. The council, very wisely we think in view of complications which would certainly have arisen and of the improvements now in progress upon the citizens' own source of water supply, absolutely ignored this demand. Finding, apparently, that public opinion is strongly against this original proposition, our contemporary now orders the Water Commissioner to exercise his statutory powers and proceed, without regard to the opinions of citizens and without consulting the said citizens, to enter upon the property of the Esquimalt Company and proceed to expropriate it. Because we have pointed out that such action would most certainly involve another expensive law suit with the comapny, the Times is accused of maliciously misrepresenting the position of the Colonist. Yet, unless there has been a complete change of attitude upon the part of the representatives of the Esquimalt Water Works Company, this is precisely what would occur. The company has held that any proceedings involving expropriation would have to be undertaken under the provisions of the Water Clauses Act, the terms of which we quoted yesterday in order to show the advantages the company would gain under a statute which seems to have been enacted specially upon its behalf, because there is not another municipality or company in the province to which its provisions could be made to apply. If we are mistaken in any of our statements or have set aught down in malice, as our contemporary contends, will it procure from the Esquimalt Water Works Company an authoritative statement to the effect that if the Water Commissioner undertakes expropriation proceedings under any other than the Water Clauses Act an injunction of restraint will not be applied for?

GOING FORWARD.

From the beginning of its career as a government the policy of the Laurier administration has been the development of Canada by the construction of waterways and the encouragement of the construction of railways. In pursuance of this policy all sections of the country have been treated liberally and without impartiality. By deepening the canals of the East traffic from the West, a large portion of it traffic originating in the Western United States, has been diverted to its natural route, the St. Lawrence and Canadian Atlantic ports. So marked has been the diversion of late that within the present year more grain destined for European markets has been shipped through the port of Montreal than by way of the port of New York, something that has never before been noted in the history of transportation upon this continent. In fact, the tendency of the business is now so obvious that the people of the great American metropolis, thought to be secure in its supremacy, have been impelled to call attention to the change and to ask whether the federal government cannot do something to counteract the movement. Deepening of the Erie Canal from Buffalo to Albany has been suggested, but it is obvious that such a purely artificial waterway cannot hope to compete with the natural channels of the great lakes and the mighty St. Lawrence river, provided the comparatively few impediments to the course of deep draft vessels be removed by the government. Here is one obvious result of the policy of the government as it affects the East.

But the Laurier government has not been unmindful of the fact that the future of Canada is principally dependent upon the development of the West. In order to facilitate this development a new transcontinental railway is now in process of construction. A great part of it, the most essential part from the point of view of immediate necessity, will be completed this year. The Grand Trunk Pacific from Edmonton to Winnipeg will be in a position, we are told, to materially assist in marketing the bountiful harvest now rapidly maturing upon the fertile virgin lands of the prairies. Along this route a tremendous extent of territory has been opened up to settlement and the settlers assured against their labors being wasted for lack of transportation facilities.

This wonderful undertaking in immediate prospect of completion, a new problem presents itself to the government. The value of the products of the prairies is governed to a great extent by the rates charged for transportation to market. This consideration demands the construction of a railway to the nearest seaboard point. Hence the project for the construction of a railway to Hudson Bay. That undertaking has been provided for, and, "will be proceeded with immediately," to use the precise words of the Minister of Railways and Canals. All these things are the result of the policy of development adopted by the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and with the possible exception of spasmodic, ill-directed, and badly executed attempts at deepening the eastern canals, not one of them was thought of until the government came into power in 1896.

A good deal has been said about "better terms" for British Columbia. It has been remarked that the best possible terms the federal government could give British Columbia would be a policy of the rapidest possible development of the wonderful resources of this highly endowed province. That has been the policy of the Laurier government. It has been exemplified in the lead bounties, which had the effect of imparting new life to an industry which had for years continued in a languishing condition. It was further exemplified in the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, which men holding influential positions in the opposition party said should not have been carried through the barren fastnesses of our unpopulated northern territory. But the road will be completed and it will have the effect of creating a new province in the north. The undertaking would obviously be incomplete if it were not supplied with feeders designed to afford connections with the south and open up to settlement and development intervening spaces. The subsidy resolutions laid before Parliament by the Minister of Railways and Canals yesterday will afford substantial encouragement to the construction of between six hundred and seven hundred miles of railway in this province, branches of trunk lines now either in existence or in process of construction. The liability upon the Dominion treasury will be four and a half million dollars, but the charge will not require to be justified immediately in this portion of the Dominion. Ultimately it will be more than justified by results.

The people of Vancouver Island especially have reason for gratification because of the liberality with which railways designed for their benefit have been treated. They have long cherished a conviction that direct connection with a great transcontinental road was the one thing needful to procure for the island the benefits of its unique strategical position upon the western hemisphere. A substantial subsidy has been given a line which will connect the island directly with the Grand Trunk Pacific, a road which obviously will not be complete without a southern connection. Branch lines intended for the internal development of the island have also been voted subsidies, and we can confidently look forward to increased material prosperity in the immediate future.

In a word, the chief feature of the Laurier government's policy is progress. Under the present regime the growth of Canada in population has been unexampled. It has been more remarkable than the expansion of the United States at a corresponding period in her history. But the development of our industries and the increase of our commerce have been even more marked than the additions we have made to the number of people participating in the benefits of such development. The opposition to the government candidly confesses it has no policy but a policy of negation. It calls for honesty in the administration of public business, with the phantom of the past rising up in judgment before it, the shadow of men like G. E. Foster looming over it. If there should be an election during the present year, can any one doubt what the result ought to be or what it will be?

A modest American scribe says it is the United States against the world in the Olympic games. If that is the case, the world seems to be getting a trifle the better thus far of its better half. And the little bit of the world known as the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland has won more points than "all the rest." But of course the meet is young yet. The events in which the Americans expect to sweep the board have not come off.

* * *

The Colonist says there is no great federal political issue before the people. Certainly not. The opposition makes the issues. Who could conceive of the present Ottawa opposition creating anything?

A PRETTY WEDDING AT ST. SAVIOUR'S

Miss Gaudin and Mr Wilby Joined in Matrimony To-Day.

A very pretty ceremony took place in St. Saviour's church this afternoon, when Mr. Arthur William Roger Wilby was united in marriage to Miss Marie Elsie Gaudin, daughter of Capt. Gaudin, of the marine and fisheries department. Rev. R. Connell officiated and was assisted by Rev. Mr. Collins.

The bride wore a dress of soft cream liberty silk embroidered with a pattern of fleurs de lis with tulle and orange blossoms and yoke and Bertha of Duchesse. The bridesmaids, Miss B. Gaudin and Miss R. Arbuthnot were dressed in cream crepe de chine with filet insertion and silver girdle with tassels to match. They wore wreaths of silver grapes and white tulle veils.

Miss Clare Courtney and Miss Betty Kirk made dainty little flower girls. They wore white silk muslin and wreaths of pink roses.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold watch bracelet, and to the bridesmaids pearl brooches. The bride's mother wore black lace over grey silk with epaulettes of Brussels and black and white toque. She carried a bouquet of La France roses. Mrs. Harvey, sister of the bride, wore pink crepe de chine and hat to match. She carried a bouquet of cream roses.

Mr. Fred Bray supported the groom. Messrs. Arthur Gore, A. R. Buckle, Wm. Newcombe, Charles Lucas and Master Robert Harvey, nephew of the bride, officiated as ushers.

After the ceremony an entertainment was given on Capt. Gaudin's spacious lawn. The bride and groom and marriage guests sat at the table under a large canopy, supported by eight pillars, the whole interwoven with flowers. At the base of the pillars were large sprays of hydrangeas and large aster daisies interwoven with maidenhair fern spread upwards to the roof, from which depended at intervals baskets of red and white roses, and honeysuckles.

The bride's going-away dress was of Copenhagen blue Henrietta with hat to match.

POPLAR'S LIFE TO BE SPARED

Application Heard This Afternoon—Case Will Be Tried After Vacation.

The poplar tree on Douglas street, standing just opposite the line between the properties of Dr. E. C. Hart and J. E. Musgrave, which the city desires to remove on the ground that it interferes with the construction of a granolithic sidewalk, was this afternoon given a lease of life by Chief Justice Hunter for another two months, at least, that is until the matter can be decided by the courts in the regular way. When Dr. Hart learned of the city's intention to cut down the tree despite his offer to look after it and give bonds that he would make good any damage that might be done to the sidewalk or sewers through its being allowed to remain, Dr. Hart, through his solicitors, Bodwell & Lawson, applied for an interim injunction restraining the city from cutting down the tree. This afternoon this injunction was continued until after the legal vacation, when the case can be heard.

Harry Lawson appeared to-day in behalf of the application to continue the injunction. He read the affidavit of Dr. Hart setting forth that he believed that the tree was partially on his property and asking that the city be restrained from interfering with it in the construction of the permanent sidewalk which the city is now laying. On the strength of this affidavit he asked a continuance of the injunction until the case could be brought to trial.

W. J. Taylor, K. C., city barrister, appeared for the city. In opening he remarked that if the circumstances were the same as in the case of Rockland avenue he did not suppose there would be much use in arguing this case.

"I don't think there is," remarked the chief justice, "especially so long as Dr. Hart claims a part ownership in the tree."

Mr. Taylor said he desired to point out that this case was different from Rockland avenue. There was the danger of the roots of the tree plugging up the sewer. The poplar was the most dangerous tree there was from this standpoint.

"It won't hurt to plug the sewer for the next two months," returned the chief justice. "If it is doing so now, it has been plugging it for the past twenty years."

The chief justice said that from what he had seen in the press, the city was indulging in the indiscriminate cutting down of trees. He had noticed that the fine maples in front of Dr. Milne's office had been cut down and could not understand such action. Other places did their best to preserve trees. In Paris for example concrete curbs and iron railings were used to protect trees standing in the streets and the city even went so far as to water them. "Apparently, however, there is a cut worm abroad in Victoria," added his lordship.

Mr. Taylor said that personally he could not see the justification for cutting down the trees which had stood in front of Dr. Milne's office, and he might have had some difficulty in opposing a motion for an injunction in that case had one been applied for. But this poplar was on an entirely different footing. Perhaps there was no other tree in the city, the circumstances in regard to which were exactly similar.

The chief justice—Having in mind Dr. Hart's offer to become responsible for any damage done by the tree I don't see why his rights should be summarily disposed of in this matter.

The injunction was then continued until the re-opening of court, the chief justice pointing out that no harm could come to the city in consequence. If the case eventually went against Dr. Hart he would have to pay the costs, but he should not be deprived of his rights without being given a chance to prove them in the court.

A BALKY HORSE.

Large Crowd To-day Experimented With Animal.

Just how cussed a balky horse can be was illustrated by a performance given on Douglas street this morning. There is a man in this city who recently invested in a serviceable and docile looking grey horse which formed part of a shipment recently brought in from the state of Washington. No guarantee of the animal's driving qualities was given but on the other hand he was sold as a green horse so far as harness was concerned, and this morning he showed that he was very green indeed.

After riding him for several days, during which time the horse showed himself amenable to control and willing to go at any and all times, his owner this morning hitched him to a cart at Scholefield's livery barn, but he positively and absolutely refused to move out of his tracks. He didn't sulk nor get ugly. He simply stood stock still and neither pulling nor dragging would induce him to start. There was soon the usual crowd with the usual brand of advice, and a variety of methods were tried before W. H. Craig, city poundkeeper, came along on horseback. He volunteered to pull the recalcitrant along, but he had counted without his host and finally gave up the job. Then L. J. Quagliotti hit upon a scheme. It was shove the rig up on the horse and so force him to move forward. Mr. Quagliotti called for assistance which was at once forthcoming. As Mr. Quagliotti and his supporters shoved forward, however, the animal shoved back and the latter proved the stronger. This method had to be abandoned. Then the owner tried leading and the horse went along for a little while but soon got tired and again rested. Finally he was coaxed back into the stable where he was unhitched. While this was being done some one made the announcement that the animal was for sale and some of the spectators had visions of a cheap horse. One man edged up and asked the owner what he wanted for it but the reply, "One hundred dollars," took his breath away and he broke off negotiations.

Then the owner put a saddle on the horse and away he went as gaily and contentedly as could be, showing that while he did not like to be driven he could be a first class saddle horse.

HIGHLY PLEASED WITH OIL PROPERTIES

Local Men Visited Locally Owned Fields at Pincher Creek.

Returned home after a personal visit of inspection to the properties of the Canadian Northwest Oil Company near Pincher Creek, Southern Alberta, C. C. Johns, one of the directors of the company, expressed himself this morning as well satisfied with developments.

"The outlook," said he, "for a big strike is very promising. The formation of the rock and the lay of the land all point toward something doing, and general appearances would seem to corroborate Dr. Dawson's statement that there'll be more money made out of oil in Southern Alberta than from anything else."

The properties owned by the Canadian Northwest Oil Company cover 3,840 acres, which is pronounced by people in Southern Alberta to be the very pick of the country.

The company are already hard at work at one well and although Mr. Johns did not wish to quote figures he said that there was a good showing of oil coming out. There are about fifteen men employed at the wells under charge of R. McCutchen.

The Old Man's river runs through the property and there is a high fall of water which Mr. Johns thinks is capable of developing 50,000 horse-power, enough to supply power to all the oil wells in the district.

"The people in that part of the northwest are all talking of the Canadian Northwest Oil Company," observed Mr. Johns, "and are of the opinion that we're going to strike it rich. We are putting in the finest possible development plants. We have already bored through 1,000 feet of rock and are installing a 90-foot derrick for the second well.

"I would like to see the people in Victoria who are now selling their shares in the Canadian Northwest Oil Company retain them," said Mr. Johns. "They are now selling them at a mere bagatelle when the chances are that they are in on a good thing. Personally, I have no shares for sale."

W. Y. McCarter also made a trip to the Pincher Creek oil fields while at the Calgary exhibition. He was very much surprised at the development the company had accomplished in so short a time. "They have," said he, "the most up-to-date appliance for sinking deep holes, and from appearances, they have struck it rich as a continuous flow of oil is pouring over the top of the casing."

On his return journey Mr. McCarter visited Cranbrook and Nelson. He says a large number of people have come into Nelson during the past few weeks on the lookout for fruit lands.

—The Royal Templars of Temperance will hold their regular meeting this evening in the K. of P. hall, corner of Douglas and Pandora streets. A full attendance is sought of all the members.

—Sam Seng, a Chinaman, last night gave the police an hour's fruitless search for three white men whom he said had attacked him as he was coming out of a resort at 23 Herald street about 11 o'clock last evening. According to Seng, one of the men had attempted to carve him with a knife, but beyond a slight cut on the right ear the complainant did not bear any evidence of his alleged ill-usage. The report which first reached the police was that a Chinaman had been shot at the corner of Government and Herald streets. When the patrol wagon arrived there was no one in sight but a search revealed Seng recounting his troubles in Gim Fook Yuen's store.

PERSONAL.

Hermann Ridder, president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association and editor of the Staats Zeitung, of New York, is now in the province, having come on to Banff to join his sons there after the Denver convention, where he sought to dissuade Bryan from his candidature. Mr. Ridder has been the most active figure in proceeding against the paper trust. He will visit the Coast and Alaska before returning to the East.

CONGREGATIONS ARE UNITING

JOINT MEETING OF BAPTISTS LAST NIGHT

Calvary and Central Churches Will Amalgamate at Once.

At a meeting of the congregations of the Calvary and Central Baptist churches held last evening, the proposition for amalgamation was endorsed and reorganization will take place at once. It is likely that the charter of the Calvary church will be used. The name of the new organization, it was decided, should be the First Baptist church although a change may yet be made in that name. The pastor of the church will be Rev. Christopher Burnett, the present pastor of the Central church, who have proved himself a hard worker for the church.

The meeting last evening was well attended and the decision to amalgamate was most unanimous. There was a difference of opinion as to some of the details but these can, it is hoped, be worked out to the satisfaction of all.

There were five resolutions brought from the joint committees that had been appointed by the churches, all of which were adopted unanimously except one, which referred to the name of the church. The committee proposed Calvary church, which resolution was the cause of considerable discussion. The members of Calvary church stood for the continuation of that name. It was argued that that was the only point on which they stood out. It was finally decided that the name should be First Baptist church.

The question of a site and all the details connected with the amalgamation are left over to be worked out later. Rev. C. Burnett, by vote, was selected as the pastor of the consolidated church.

Building will not be proceeded with for a little time until funds have been provided and in the meantime the site will be decided upon.

MEXICO OPPOSED TO FAKING COMPANIES

May Take Steps to Control Corporations Operating There.

Frank E. Palmer, of Mexico city, is a visitor in the city. He is stopping at the Balmoral hotel.

"Mexico," said Mr. Palmer, whose father is interested in enterprises in that country, "is just recovering from the worst depression it has ever been subjected to. For months there was scarcely a ship in the harbors with United States products, and nobody seemed to have a dollar to spend.

"So many wild cat mining propositions have been thrust on the market by fake American companies that the Mexican government are seriously thinking of forcing all companies to register under the Mexican laws. At present the government has no control whatever over companies who advertise in the Mexican market fake mining properties across the boundary."

The inscription on a large white marble tombstone in Hampstead cemetery, London, is written in Pitman's reporting style of phonography. It appears that a young wife, who lies buried there, had taken up the study of shorthand, while ill from consumption, to pass away the long days, and had also taught her husband the system. She died soon after he gained a speed certificate.

WONDERFUL CROP IN PRAIRIE PROVINCES

Victorian Says That Whole Country is Awaiting Harvest.

C. A. Gass, of this city, who has recently returned from the prairies, confirms the reports previously received that the country looks splendid. There are 6,000,000 acres in wheat alone, he says, according to the statistics available in the three prairie provinces. The crop is three weeks or a month ahead of any other year and should be harvested about the middle of August. The conditions are therefore the most encouraging.

At an average of only 25 bushels to the acre the wheat of the Canadian prairies should be according to that acreage, 150,000,000, which it must be admitted is a tremendous amount to handle.

Mr. Gass says that the farmers are all holding themselves well in hand until the crop is gathered. There is no tendency to speculate on the prospects but the most conservative conditions prevail. The arrival of the harvest will mean, however, a wonderful activity with the immense crop there is to handle. The whole country east and west is waiting for the harvest.

TIMBER SOURCES.

Canada is one of the few countries which can be depended on to produce more timber than is sufficient for its needs. Such is the opinion of a great French authority, M. Melard, who has made a careful study of the source of the world's timber supply. There are only seven countries in the world which now export wood in any quantity. Besides Canada, these are the United States on this continent, and in Europe, Austria-Hungary, Norway, Sweden, Russia and Finland. In Asia, only Russia has more than enough for her own use; Africa and South America can send little or no timber suitable for ordinary use, and Australia can supply little.

Of the seven exporting countries mentioned, the United States, Rusia and Austria-Hungary have been increasing in population and developing their resources so rapidly that they must soon cease to rank among exporting countries. Norway is over-cutting her forests and must soon decrease her export. Only three countries remain, viz: Canada, Sweden and Finland, as sources that can be depended on for the timber supply.

Canada's forest area has been estimated as 800,000,000 acres, but so much of this is of little value naturally, or has been burned over that more recent estimates fall much below this, even less than half. The amount of wood produced annually is no doubt much in excess of what is now being cut each year. It is important, however, if Canada is to hold her position as a timber producing country, that her forests be protected from fire and so managed as to ensure the greatest amount of timber being cut year after year, so as to keep them producing in perpetuity, and it is to this end that efforts are being made to secure better care of her forests. The demand for wood is sure to keep up and increase; it is wanted for building, for furniture, for tools, and for a multitude of other uses; and as a nation progresses so the amount of wood used for each individual of its population increases, and so the country which can supply the demand for this commodity has a resource of ever increasing importance, and one that will well repay considerable expenditure in its care.

A firmer tone is noted in the sugar markets, led by beet sugar in Europe, says Dun's Review. The foreign strength was derived chiefly from reports of drouth, and domestic refiners took all offerings from Cuba at an advance to 4.39 cents for centrifugal 96 degree test. Cuban weekly statistics showed the same small port receipts and large exports that has been the rule of late, which reduced the stock to 116,000 tons. In the market for refined grades there was no special activity, but consumption is known to be on a liberal scale, which is depleting grocers' holdings and gives promise of active demand shortly. Meanwhile the distributing trade operates only when necessary, although there is no promise of easier terms in the near future, and some refiners have already advanced prices.

NO CRICKET MATCH.

Vancouver Players Will Not Arrive Here Saturday.

The secretary of the Albion Cricket Club has this morning received word by wire from Vancouver to the effect that the Vancouver cricketers will not be here on Saturday, but that a team will arrive here the following week to play the Albion eleven. The Albion team will on Saturday in all probability have a game with some local men which will attract interest to the sport. The local team which is now being got together for the purpose will be announced later.

The Victoria cricket eleven go to Seattle on Saturday to play the local men there, who are said to have a strong team out for the occasion, and to have imported a few assistants from Tacoma to disturb the stumps of the Victoria men. Cricketers have been out during the week for practice every night and afternoon, and the interest being centered in the king of games is proving that locally it is gaining a greater hold than ever.

MONTREAL PORT.

Tonnage of Sea-Going Vessels This Year is Heaviest Ever Known.

Since the opening of navigation for the present season the revenue received by the harbor commissioners of Montreal has amounted to $90,710, as against $76,697 for last year, or an increase of $14,013.

Of the total amount, there was received last month: From imports, $34,000, or $1 000 less than in June, 1907; but exports reached $14,000, as compared with $6,500 a year ago, an increase of $7,500; and from local traffic there was received $7,491, as against $1,950 in June of last year, or an increase of $5 540. This brings the total revenue for last month up to $55,491, or an increase of $12,040 over June, 1907.

Of the total revenue received since the opening of navigation this year, imports represent $60,000, as compared with $61,500 in the corresponding period of 1907; exports, $20,000, as against $7,000, and local traffic, $10,710, as compared with $8,197.

The number of sea-going vessels which have arrived in port up to July 1 is 246, representing a tonnage of 655,155, or an increase of twenty-eight vessels, and 79,467 tons over 1907. This beats all records excepting in 1905, when the total number of vessels up to July 1st was 253, representing a tonnage of 602,185, this being only an increase of seven vessels, but a decrease of 52,970 in tonnage.

The average depth of the harbor up to July 1st, has been 34 feet 9 inches, as compared with that of 29 feet 6 inches in 1905.

No sea-going sailing vessels arrived either this year or last year.

YAQUI INDIANS BEING SUBDUED

STATE OF SONORA IS UNDER MARTIAL LAW

Lonsdale Brings News of Conflict—Deportations From Guaymas.

Bringing advices of further conflict between the Mexican government troops and the Yaqui Indians in the state of Sonora the Canadian-Mexican liner Lonsdale, Capt. McCalmont, reached port last evening.

While the Lonsdale was in Guaymas on the 4th inst., Capt. McCalmont and some of his officers were ashore at a time when 300 Yaquis were brought into the town by the troops for deportation to Les Tres Marias Islands. Two gunboats were anchored in Guaymas harbor and the country was filling up with troops from various quarters. The government has placed the state of Sonora under martial law and it is understood that President Diaz will now spare no efforts to subdue the recalcitrant Indians.

The large party of Indians brought into Guaymas while the Lonsdale was there had been besieged for nearly two weeks by a force under General Torres in the Sierra de Bacatete. Torres was about to receive the arms of another band of Indians who had assembled to surrender when an outbreak occurred and the whole band was also seized for deportation, a drastic resort of the government which is designed to rid Sonora of the obnoxious tribe that has given so much trouble for many years past.

General Lorenzo Torres has guarded all the passes in the Sierra de Bacatete and has shut off all sources of food and water supplies. Every day a number of the Indians, endeavoring to cross his lines, fall into ambush and so the gradual, but certain, clearing of the country is being accomplished. The Indians, where not besieged, are aggressive and it is even unsafe to venture a mile from the outskirts of Guaymas. Several severe clashes with the military have taken place with losses on both sides.

NEW REGULATIONS FOR ESQUIMALT DRY-DOCK

Repairs Must Be Started Within Five Days of Entry.

New regulations for the operation of the dry dock at Esquimalt recently passed by order in council provide that repairs must be commenced upon a vessel within five days after the dock is pumped out. The penalty for default is $200 for each day of delay.

The following new schedule is established for all vessels: Up to 1,000 tons, $300, for the first day and five cents per ton for each following day; vessels 2,000 tons or over, $400 first day of dockage and four cents per ton up to 2,000 tons each following day. Among the regulations are others of less importance providing government entry forms for dry docking and other routine.

AMENDMENT OF COASTING LAWS

OBJECTS OF NEW BILL FULLY EXPLAINED

Gives Government Power of Discriminating to Meet All Conditions.

The bill introduced into the House of Commons by Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, on Friday last, to amend the Canada Shipping act, has, as its main object, the granting of powers of discrimination to the government which will allow of it meeting by order in council new conditions as they arise. The present law does not allow of elasticity in the matter of granting or withdrawing coasting privileges but the new bill will allow the government to name the classes and characters of vessels which it may be decided to grant privileges to and the particular locality to which the privileges will apply.

While the government is given power to meet local conditions on both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts by the bill the latter does not in any way affect the operation of the coasting laws regarding foreign bottoms except in the case of a certain class of Norwegian colliers on the Atlantic side which are the only vessels at present able to meet the peculiarities of coal trade there.

The government was heavily petitioned by the maritime provinces to introduce amendments to the shipping act which would allow of the exclusion of all foreign bottoms except Norwegian colliers of 2,500 tons and upward, the exclusion of which, at the present time, would seriously effect industries in the maritime cities. The bill, however, allows for the withdrawal of this privilege at any time that the government may see fit.

LONSDALE RETURNS TO PORT FROM MEXICO

D. G. McNeil, British Vice-Consul at Colima, Among Passengers.

Nine passengers came north on the Canadian-Mexican liner Lonsdale which reached port last night, including D. G. McNeill, British vice-consul at Colima, with Mrs. McNeill and daughter. Mr. McNeill spent a vacation on Vancouver island a year ago, coming north on the first sailing of the Canadian-Mexican line and is so impressed with the beauties of the country that he is repeating his holiday. F. E. Palmer, of this city, who has been some years in Mexico, returned to his home from Salima Cruz; John Chandler, a fireman, who was left in the hospital at Salima Cruz from H. M. S. Shearwater, was also a passenger. O. M. Brown, an engineer; F. Myson, a capitalist, and W. and C. A. Donovan, mining engineers, were passengers from Mazatlan.

No freight was brought up and very little is offered for the southbound trip. It is uncertain whether the Lonsdale or the Georgia will take the sailing on the 1st of August. The Lonsdale will probably undergo survey while at Vancouver and, in that case, may be held for minor repairs. The Georgia's repairs are approaching completion and it is very probable that she will leave on the 1st. The first mails to be carried from this port to Mexico by water route will be taken on the next steamship inaugurating the direct service announced in the Times some weeks ago.

The Lonsdale brought news of the closing of the port at Mazatlan on June 20th and 21st owing to bad weather. None of the small vessels in the big gap which is given the name of harbor, were allowed to leave and none were permitted to enter. The Chargeurs-Reunis liner Ceylan, from Puget Sound and San Francisco, had a large shipment of general freight for the port and a request was made to allow of her entering. This was not granted, however, it being pointed out that the bar was too bad and the big French liner was forced to go north to Guaymas to discharge, permission to enter being obtained from the Mexican government.

At 10 o'clock last night the Canadian-Mexican liner proceeded to Vancouver. Capt. Worsnop, general manager of the line, and L. C. Smith, business manager, returned to Vancouver on her.

LAUNCH OF NEW C. P. R. FLYER

NOTABLE PARTY AT NAMING CEREMONY

Felicitious Speeches After the Princess Charlotte Took Water.

Glasgow advices, dated June 29th, give the following description of the new C. P. R. steamship Princess Charlottee and the launching ceremony at Govan, June 27th:

The twin-screw steamer Princess Charlotte, which the Fairfield Shipbuilding & Engineering Company (Limited), Govan, launched on Saturday for the Canadian Pacific Railway Company's service between Vancouver and Seattle, is 342 feet in length, 46 feet 6 inches in breadth, 26 feet in depth to shelter deck, and of about 3,600 tons gross. She is divided into seven watertight compartments, and the orlop deck is also made water-tight, adding greatly to the safety of the ship. There are five decks—the orlop, main, shelter, promenade and shade decks. The entrance to the passenger accommodation is through water-tight doors on the ship's side on the shelter deck forward. It leads to a spacious entrance hall, tastefully panelled in teak, the floor being laid with terra-cotta and white rubber tiles. Aft of the main entrance is a large central hall, fitted up with lounge seats upholstered in crimson plush. On the shelter deck there is accommodation for 176 first class passengers in two and three berth rooms, fitted up in the latest style. On either side of the forward central hall are 12 large three-berth rooms and also four rooms fitted as bridal chambers, two in fine figured mahogany and two in St. Domingo satin wood. At the after end of the shelter deck is a central hall similar to that forward, and also a ladies' tearoom in light Austrian oak with tulip wood inlay in panels, and blue and cream furnishings. On the promenade deck there are two spacious halls in a large deckhouse, and also accommodation for 104 first class passengers in two-berth rooms. At the after end is the smoking-room, in fumed oak and with domed windows. The dining saloon, on the main deck aft, extends from side to side of the ship, and is capable of seating 133 persons. It is framed in mahogany, white enamelled, and tastefully relieved with gold gilt. There is accommodation forward for 48 second class passengers, with bar and dining accommodation. The vessel, which is fore and aft rigged, and has three funnels, will be propelled by two sets of triple-expansion engines balanced on the Yarrow, Schlick and Tweedy systems, and specially designed so as to reduce vibration at high speed to a minimum.

The naming ceremony was performed by Mrs. R. Marpole, wife of the general executive assistant officer of the Canadian Pacific railway in British Columbia. Among those on the launching platform were Mr. and Mrs. Marpole, Mr. Arthur Piers, manager of the steamship lines of the company; Mr. and Mrs. C. Gardner-Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. John Bissett, Dr. Francis Elgar, chairman of the Fairfield Company, and Mrs. Elgar, Mr. Alex. Gracie, Admiral Sir Digby Morant, Col. Mosley, Mr. A. W. Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Strachan, Mr. H. E. Deadman, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Cleghorn, Mr. P. A. Hillhouse, Mr. James Syme, Mr. J. J. Gilbertson, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Elgar, Mrs. Strain, Miss Tait, Capt. and Mrs. Taylor, Mr. G. A. Workman and Mr. A. W. Torrance.

Dr. Elgar, who presided at the luncheon after the launch, proposed "Success to the Princess Charlotte and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company." The Canadian Pacific railway, he said, were among the largest shipowners in the world, and if they went on as they were doing they would soon be the largest. A great deal was being said about an "All-Red Route." He believed there already was an All-Red Route. It was being worked by the Canadian Pacific. One could go from this country to Montreal by C. P. R. steamers, then to Vancouver by C. P. R. trains, and thence to Australia, again by C. P. R. steamres. So an All-Red Route was already in existence, and it was only a question of developing it and making it faster than it was at present. He hoped there would soon be faster ships running to Canada even than at present, and very much faster ships on the Pacific than those now running.

Mr. Piers said the Canadian Pacific Company, instead of working up slowly the speed of their vessels on the Pacific coast, had determined to go in at once for 19-knot boats. He hoped that before long they would have still more steamers, and have a very firm hold in the shipping trade, not only in the Atlantic, but also in the Pacific. As to the new steamer her success was already assured. That was not the first time they had had dealings with the Fairfield company, and the vessels built in the yard had been very far indeed from failures.

Admiral Sir Digby Morant proposed "The health of Mrs. Marpole," at the same time presenting that lady with a gold watch bracelet as a souvenir of the occasion. Mr. Marpole, in replying, said very few there could understand the enormous territory the Canadian Pacific Company had and the splendid country that British Columbia was. The interests of trade on the Pacific coast required a vessel like the Princess Charlotte, and he could easily see one or two more orders in the future.

Mr. Piers, in proposing "The Fairfield Company," said the company had now built three types of steamers for the Canadian Pacific, of three totally different types. They had built the two large Empresses, in the designing of which they were restricted exceedingly by contract conditions. The ships had to trade where depth of water was limited; there were restrictions as to length; they required the finest and largest possible passenger accommodation, large cargo capacity, and a high rate of speed. The Fairfield company had solved the problem with complete success. They had also built a pair of ships for the lake services, of a kind never before constructed at that or any other yard. They were cargo and passenger steamers of a high class; were finished complete at the yard; they then steamed across the Atlantic, and were cut in two and taken up for 600 or 700 miles by rivers, canals and lakes, without the least hitch. They were now in their places in the lake service. Now had come the Princess Charlotte, again a different type. She was of limited size, of high speed and fitted after the style of the coastal and river steamers of North America.

Mr. Grace replied, remarking that it was always a pleasure to them at Fairfield to work for the Canadian Pacific Company and with their officials.

One of the latest third order incandescent petroleum vapor lights has been received by the local branch of the marine department for installation at Carmanah in place of the present second order Cayoptric light. The new light will have a greater power than the present one.

EXCELLENT PRODUCTION.

Robert Mantell in Hamlet Again Delighted Audience.

One of the finest treats that local lovers of Shakespeare have ever had the privilege of enjoying was Robert Mantell's production of Hamlet at the Victoria theatre last evening. Mantell is not only an actor in the true sense of the word, but he is also a lover of Shakespeare and his work. He has made a particular study of Hamlet and his interpretation last evening of the part of the "Melancholy Dane" showed it. It was a finished and artistic piece of work. Mr. Mantell's support throughout was excellent and the audience left the theatre feeling they had just seen one of the best offerings of the season of the Victoria theatre.

TREE PRESERVATION IN OTHER CITIES

Montreal Sets an Example in Sparing the Axe.

Montreal is proud of its beautiful Mount Royal, the park par excellence for beauty, says a visitor from Victoria. Winding drives lead to the top of the hill overgrown with all kinds of deciduous trees. Among them are the elm, oak, basswood or lime, birch mountain ash, and many others, including numbers of beautiful shrubs. The syringa, which also grows will near Victoria, was in full bloom at the time of my visit.

What appealed to me particularly however, was the fact that the authorities who had charge of these trees were really proud of them. They did not tell me this, but the fact could be seen. Anything and everything was done to try to preserve their natural beauty. The road was often deflected from its natural course in order to pass around some particularly beautiful elm, and the boughs were not trimmed unless they were an actual menace to passers. A large part of the journey to the summit and back was made beneath the shade of trees, and as the day was hot it was much appreciated.

This however, is the point of the story. When the road was constructed two trees, one an elm and the other a rather insignificant oak, stood in the middle of the right of way. It might have been expected that with such a wealth of foliage on every hand the Montreal folk would have made short shrift of the trees. Fortunately for the Montreal people and the tourists who visit there by the million, there was someone there whose heart was attuned to nature at her best and the trees live to-day, mute evidences of the wisdom of the man or body of men who had charge of the city at that time.

The deflected road is a thing of beauty, and will be a joy forever. It is immeasurably improved by the curves necessary to intercept the trees. The oak tree mentioned above was but a poor insignificant thing compared with the Victoria oaks, yet they thought enough of it to protect it. This surely should be a convincing fact to those who still are possessed with the bug of destruction in the fair capital of the West. It might also be mentioned that the road was but thirty feet wide and was one of the main avenues of traffic.

Alderman Mills, of Vancouver, who was present and saw what had been done, has mentioned the same fact, which had impressed him very much. He thinks that the people here try to make the most of the natural beauties which they have and display them to the visitors.

THE PRAIRIES NEED THE ISLAND FRUIT

An Unlimited Market Exists for Victoria's Output.

The opportunities for marketing British Columbia fruit in the Northwest are very great, especially in the smaller centres. There seems to be no supply at all there of fruit that is worth buying, writes a Victorian. If the inhabitants of the towns in any of the prairie provinces could get fruit in good condition they would be only too glad to pay for it and to pay good prices. Talks with prairie dwellers has elicited this fact and personal experience has shown that the market is hardly touched. Let me give an example:

It was at Medicine Hat. I dropped off the train and ignoring the restaurants, ran up town and entered a good-sized fruit store.

"How do you sell your bananas?" said I.

"Fifty cents a dozen."

"Oranges?"

"Fifty and sixty."

"Peaches?"

"Fifty cents a pound."

"Strawberries?"

"They are twenty cents a pound. We have some fine fresh ones just in. We can recommend those."

Visions of Victoria fruit flashed across my mind and without investigation I bought. I took them over to the train and there the precious parcel was unpacked with pleasant anticipation. What was our chagrin then to find that what they called strawberries were really a few culls some over-ripe and others green, while none were as large as the top of my thumb. These were the recommended fruit that was just fresh in. Twenty cents a pound for it, too. At various points along the road the windows and shops near the stations were investigated but not a berry was to be seen. We could not get any more until we arrived at Montreal and there the quality was nearly equal to our preserving grade. The seeds on the outside stood out from the fruit as if the berries had been picked a week, although I have since been assured by those who profess to know, that plenty of berries are grown in the suburbs of the city. My only conclusion is that the berries they grow cannot begin to compare with the Vancouver Island brand.

None of them compared in appearance with those grown by Grant, Appleton, Stewart, Palmer or even the modest tyro on our Island and they would be outclassed at once.

I talked with Ontario men on the possibility of supplying the prairies from there.

"Well, you see, it would be necessary to have cold storage," they said.

"Why don't you get cold storage?" I remarked.

"It would cost too much. It would not pay."

There it is. The initial cost while the business is being worked up would be heavy but after that imagine the result if you can.

In British Columbia we ship without cold storage and make plenty of money. There is not the slightest doubt, however, that if there was a system of shipping direct in cold storage the fruit would arrive in better condition and the results would be immeasurably superior. This is a proposition that the railway companies could handle, but if they do not, it seems to be the duty of the provincial government to develop the best industry that Vancouver Island has.

Imagine a system where it would not be necessary to send the fruit via Ladysmith with the consequent delays, but straight across the gulf to the railway terminus and then on through the mountains without any change of temperature. See what an impetus the fruit industry would receive. Many a wildcat scheme is fostered and tended and it brings forth nothing but wind. Here is a scheme the future of which in real wealth to the whole country cannot be estimated and surely somebody might do something to foster it and bring it to the fore. The Victoria board of trade has hatched many a proposition less worthy than this.

CONDUCTOR OF "KILTIES."

Albert Cook, a Man of Striking Personality, Leads the Great Band.

A musical organization of the importance and renown of the "Kilties" must necessarily have for its leader a man of highest ability. In the person of Albert Cook, the director, this leader is found. Mr. Cook is a striking example of a man, who not only knows music, but can impart to those under him his ideas of how compositions should be played. In the Kilties, Canada's remarkable band, which has visited seven countries, and is now on its fifteenth tour, Mr. Cook has most sympathetic material, and with it he achieves results that take his hearers by storm.

Nothing but praise is ever heard for the band, because every man in it is an artist, individually working for the success of the whole; and, under the direction of a master, they could not help achieving that success.

It is not necessary for Mr. Cook to descend to eccentricities in order to secure good work from his men and throughout all his leading the gymnastics indulged in by some leaders are noticeable by their absence. His splendid figure, set up like a soldier's, is not required to twist and turn and jump about to secure the results he desires from the musicians, and the ease with which he leads them comes as a distinct relief to audiences over-weary of "eccentric" poses.

The Kilties, with Mr. Cook leading, supplemented by a male choir of twenty voices, and Mr. Angus McMillan Fraser, the American champion bagpiper, and sword, sailor's hornpipe and Highland fling dancer, will appear at the Royal Athletic park on Thursday afternoon (matinee) and evening.

VICTORIAN MAY BUY DEBENTURES

Ladysmith Anxiously Waiting to Hear From C. P. R. About Lighting Scheme.

(Special Correspondence).

Ladysmith, July 13.—The most important question before the city council last evening was the proposed lighting scheme. Mayor Nicholson stated that the council was in a very difficult position. Immediately after the passing of the by-law it had entered into negotiations with the C. P. R. Company for the sale of the debentures. Mr. Marpole had been interviewed and a letter sent to Vice-President McNichol. Mr. Marpole was then about to set out on his European trip, and he had promised to take the matter up with Mr. McNichol when he reached Montreal.

Since that time the council had no communication of any kind from Montreal. There had been a mistake or a misunderstanding of some kind which they were now unable to rectify owing to the absence in Europe both of Mr. Marpole and Mr. McNichol. Meantime the summer was slipping by and the city was apparently as far from making a start as ever. Two other offers had meantime been received. One eastern firm was ready to handle and dispose of the bonds at some points below par, and the other asked for an option for two or three weeks. His worship concluded by saying that he had heard of a party in Victoria who might take up the bonds, and it was now a question to decide what was best to be done.

There was a general feeling against disposing of the bonds below par, and it was finally decided that the mayor should cable Mr. Marpole and get a definite reply. Failing a satisfactory answer he was to interview the Victoria party and endeavor to place the bonds.

The order recently issued by Dr. A. W. Frost, the medical officer of health for the city, instructing that all the wells within the limits of the municipality were to be closed, was brought up by his worship. He had given instructions to the constable, he said, to notify all householders with wells that they must be closed up. However, he would like the council as a body, to say whether it approved or disapproved of Dr. Frost's order.

Ald. Matheson declared that there was no doubt in the world that many of the wells in use in the city were dangerous to health and ought to be closed.

Ald. Roberts asked what the people would do if after all the wells had been filled up, an accident was to happen to the pipes or hydrants of the waterworks company?

Mayor Nicholson said there might be a few wells in the town the water of which was good. The majority of them, however, were unfit to be used. He would like to see the wells examined and the water analyzed so as to ascertain which of them would stand the test.

After some further discussion the council unanimously decided that the medical officer's instructions should be enforced.

A request by Ald. Matheson for permission to lay a drain from his lot across the Esplanade on to the C. P. R. Company's land, produced a warm discussion, and in the end the request was turned down. Mayor Nicholson and Ald. Campbell thought the request ought to be granted; Aldermen Roberts and McKinnell being of the contrary opinion. The latter took the ground that the city by-law provided that a householder should get rid of his dirty water on his own lot, and that as a council they could not officially sanction the putting in of a drain intended to carry dirty water on to private property.

KOOTENAY CELEBRATES.

Nelson, B. C., July 14.—Local and Rossland Orangemen had a parade yesterday in honor of the twelfth. The turnout was good and speeches were made at the recreation grounds.

NELSON AHEAD ON TIME.

Nelson, B. C., July 14.—At a meeting of the city council it was decided to adopt mountain in place of Pacific coast time as now. This means putting the clock ahead one hour. The actual change will take place next Sunday at 1 a. m. At present the time changes at Kootenay Landing, some 25 miles southeast of Nelson, and Nelson will now come within mountain time.

The action taken by the council is the result of an agitation that has been going on here for the past two months. Practically every one is either in favor of the change or not opposed to it.

OPIUM HOLDS YOUNG GIRL IN ITS THRALL

Detective Finds Her in Chinese Gambling Den During Raid.

Vancouver, July 14.—With drooping eyes and pale face, a young girl named Violet Nowell, stood in the police court yesterday morning. The bench was reminiscent of a Full Court, as it was occupied by three justices. Thomas Proctor presided, and he was flanked by Ald. McGuigan and Frank Richards, J. P., both gentlemen of considerable magisterial experience. To the story of Violent Nowell, as told by the police, they listened carefully, and decided that in her case at least severity would be mercy and sent her down to the provincial jail for three months in order that the opium that lulled her in a lotus sleep might work out of her system.

Detective Scott said they had found her living among some Chinamen, whose place was raided for gambling. In order to get her out of sight they had thrown her down through a trap door. They afterwards found her in filthy quarters at the back of the den, a place full of old broken bottles and garbage, and described by Detective Scott as "a place not fit to keep pigs in."

The court decided that three months' imprisonment might have a good effect. The girl, who stood with eyes half closed all the time, listened to the sentence, and moved away with an air of stupid indifference.

SMALL SOCKEYE PACK IN NORTHERN WATERS

Better Weather May Improve Take of Spring Salmon on Skeena.

Vancouver, July 14.—The pack of sockeyes in Northern British Columbia waters as a whole does not equal that of last season at this time, according to a statement made by W. H. Barker, president and general manager of the British Columbia Packers' Association who returned from a trip as far as the Skeena river. The pack of sockeyes at Rivers Inlet is about one-third of what it was at this time last year, but on the Skeena the pack about equals that of last year at this time.

"At Alert Bay weather conditions have been against fishing," said Mr. Barker, "but a few sockeyes are showing up in the Nimkish river. At Bella Coola the run of springs was about 30 per cent. less than last year with sockeyes about the same as last season.

"At Kimsquit the sockeyes started running a week ago to-day. At Rivers Inlet the pack is about one-third as large as last year Wadham's cannery having the largest pack. Lowe Inlet cannery had 900 cases packed last Saturday.

"On the Skeena the run of springs was fair. On Thursday last the sockeyes were averaging 60 or 70 to the boat. The weather was very bad, stormy, rainy and cold. If we get better weather on the Skeena the pack may be good. The total pack, including springs and sockeyes on the Skeena river, is 19,000 cases, mostly springs. On Rivers Inlet the total pack to last Saturday was 9,000 cases."

WAS HIGHLY ESTEEMED.

Widespread Regret at Death of Mrs. Wilson—Funeral Yesterday.

Vancouver, July 14.—Great regret was felt in Vancouver at the news of the death on Sunday evening of Helen Mary Wilson, beloved wife of Charles Wilson, K. C., who entered into rest at the family residence, 1075 Barclay street. The deceased lady had been an invalid for a number of years, during which time she bore much pain with the greatest cheerfulness and fortitude. The end was quite unexpected. Mrs. Wilson was able to go out on Saturday morning, but was taken ill in the afternoon and grew gradually worse, until on Sunday evening at about 6 o'clock she passed away, death being caused by paralysis of the respiratory organs. Her bereaved husband and stepson, Edward Wilson, were with her at the last.

The late Mrs. Wilson came to Vancouver in the days before the fire, about twenty or twenty-one years ago, and was a prominent member of society. Few people in Vancouver were better liked or more respected than was she. Her kindness of heart and generosity to young and old alike gained her a host of friends, while the pluck she showed throughout her weary years of pain and suffering won the admiration of all who knew her. A sister of the deceased, Mrs. Charles Shover, resides in this city, while a stepdaughter, Mrs. Gartshore, is living in Hamilton, Ont. Mrs. Wilson was a native of Indiana. The greatest sympathy is expressed with Mr. Wilson and family in their heart-breaking loss.

The funeral took place to-day at 2 p. m. from the residence to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, where the Rev. R. J. Wilson conducted the service.

SKELETON IN LOG JAM.

Party on Fishing Trip Makes Gruesome Discovery on Lillooet River.

Vancouver, July 14.—While on a fishing trip up the Lillooet river during the past couple of weeks, M. J. Henry, in company with other members of the party, discovered what appeared to be the skeleton of a man lodged in a log jam in the river. The provincial police have taken the matter up and are making an investigation. Mr. Henry had a narrow escape from also leaving his own corpse in the river near where the gruesome find was made. For while landing an unusually large trout he unfortunately slipped from a log on which he was standing and was quickly swept underneath a lodge of logs by the raging stream. Luckily none of his clothes caught in any projecting limbs or rocks and he successfully brought himself to the surface some distance below, little the worse for his experience, though the escape was a narrow one.

NAVIGATION IN FRASER.

Louis Coste Leaves for Ottawa After Examination of Waterway.

Vancouver, July 14.—Louis Coste, a member of the international waterways commission, left for home to-day, after completing a preliminary examination of the Fraser river from its mouth to New Westminster. His mission is to report on a scheme for improving the deep water navigation of the river between these two points, as well as to devise means for preventing the wearing away of valuable farm lands on the lower delta.

FERNIE TAX RATE UNCHANGED.

Fernie, July 14.—The rate of taxation was fixed by the city council at their last meeting held this week, at 22½ mills, being the same rate as last year. At the same meeting a committee was appointed to interview the lessee of the water rights at Fairy creek, the source from which it is proposed to obtain a water supply for the city in the event of the municipality deciding to operate their own waterworks system.

NELSON SPORTSMAN DEAD.

Nelson, July 14.—J. L. Meighan, one of Nelson's best known sporting men, and a great upholder of football, is dead from blood poisoning. The deceased was a native of Glasgow, aged 42, and unmarried. He was manager for Clark & Thompson, and had resided here for the last ten years.

SOCIALIST NOMINATION.

Vancouver, July 14.—Vancouver Socialists met in convention last night for the purpose of nominating a candidate to run in Vancouver city for the House of Commons at the approaching election. The names of E. T. Kingsley and W. J. Curry were mentioned. It was finally decided to leave the nomination open for another two weeks.

STRONGEST TEAM TO OPPOSE MAPLE LEAFS

Lacrosse Men Hard at Work and Getting Into Best Form for Saturday.

The twelve members of the Victoria lacrosse club who have given their individual promises to turn out for practice three to four nights each week are all keeping to their word, and have been out this week, and are playing together with a view to establishing a fast combination with which to outplay the twelve from Vancouver, who are due here Saturday. The Royal Athletic ground will be the only draw on Saturday, with the exception of the Scottish games at Oak Bay, and the men are working so that those who go to see the game will not be disappointed with their showing. The match against the Maple Leafs of Last Saturday, in which the local men were beaten, cannot be taken as an indication of the outcome of next Saturday's game, for the team that went across to the Mainland to play last week was by no means representative of the full strength of Victoria. There were in the team about five players, and the remainder beginners. For Saturday it is said that Jesse and Cessford will be out of the team, but with the two men in Ross and Battersley their loss will be made up. The Victorians are striving to get out the best team possible for Saturday, and all the men at practice are being closely watched by the team selectors who will make the final choice for the match. The two new men in the team who played on the main and last Saturday up to top form will cause much interest in the match, and the Victorian boys say they will put the strongest available team in the field, and will be out to win the game.

JAMES BAY MEN ON NEW PLANS

THE PROPOSED CLUB HOUSE IS CONSIDERED

Shareholders to Hear Scheme Made by Imperial Trust Company.

The growth of the present James Bay Athletic Association has proceeded so quickly that it has been found that the premises now occupied by the club are not sufficiently extensive to accommodate the membership. The secretary pointed out that there had during the last month been fifteen applications for membership received and this taken as an indication of the growth of the club was the reason for the discussion of the proposal to purchase a portion of two lots from the Imperial Trust Company of the property recently purchased opposite the post office on the water front at the corner of the causeway.

The matter came before the J. B. A. A. at its meeting held last night and was introduced as the result of an offer made by the Imperial Trust Company, who suggested that property on the front of the water might be purchased and a three-story building might thereon be erected and the general opinion of those present was that the association should not overlook any opportunity that would be of advantage to the members and tend to the extension of the premises and provide more accommodation which it is felt is badly needed.

H. Dallas Helmcken, the president, occupied the chair and there were present in addition, Secretary Duncan and Members Sullivan, Austin, Thomas, Andrews, Hughes, McTavish and Johnson.

The conclusion arrived at by the meeting was that it would be wise to fully consider the matter with the shareholders which will be done on Thursday evening, July 25th, for which date a meeting of shareholders has been called to consider the matter.

From the plans outlined by the proposal of the Imperial Trust Company, it is proposed to erect a building three stories high devoted in part to athletics. The plans provide for a swimming tank of large size a thing which in itself is badly needed in the city and which if open to the general public at a charge, could be made to pay handsomely, a gymnasium, a boat house, training quarters, club rooms and all quarters necessary to a first class athletic association. At the meeting of shareholders the financial side of the idea will be laid out and the exact proposal of the Imperial Trust Company considered. The shareholders will then have the decision as to whether the matter shall proceed.

The general opinion is that an opportunity such as is offered should not lightly be cast aside, but should be embraced if possible. The growing needs of the club and the quickly increasing membership make it imperative that something be done for providing large quarters. The situation opposite the post office on the water front is away ahead of the present location and it is said the plans proposed would provide for larger space for indoor sport than that now available.

WOULD-BE WRESTLER ACCUSED OF THEFT

Charles Beards Appears Before Magistrate on a Charge of Shoplifting.

Charles Beards, one of the remnants of the Provincial Athletic Club, of brief and inglorious memory, appeared in the police court this morning on a charge of shoplifting. Like Matsuda, another protege of the departed club, who has just completed a month's sentence for the theft of billiard balls from Osawa's Japanese boarding house, Beards' specialty, according to his own account, is wrestling, and an effort was made to arrange a match for him under the auspices of the provincial athletic aggregation. Since then Beards has made his headquarters in the city, where he has collected a beautiful and varied assortment of goods, consisting of perfumes, toilet articles of various descriptions, hand satchels, ladies' shoes, silk handkerchiefs, linen goods of different kinds and a variety of nicknacks as well as a quantity of hardware. Altogether he was on a fair way to having enough stuff in his possession to start in business, when the police arrived on the scene last evening and arrested him.

The particular charge against him is that he stole a hand satchel valued at $18 from Bowes' drug store on Saturday last. How Beards came into possession of the other goods found in his room in the Poodle Dog it is impossible to say, none of them having been reported missing to the police and none of them having yet been identified.

Beards, who is a swarthy, rather good looking young man, dresses in the height of fashion. Since his arrival in the city he has taken life easy, but has lived on the fat of the land. He has hit the high spots to a certain extent since his arrival here and it is said has done his best to cultivate an acquaintanceship in the underworld.

This case was the only one to come before the magistrate this morning and Beards appeared to be enjoying the distinction. He appeared as cool and unconcerned as any one in the court room. He is, however, a modest young man and has no desire for newspaper advertising as was shown by the one request that he made during the time he was before the court. This request was addressed to Detective Perdue and was that the newspapers should not be allowed to take his name in vain. Beards' modest wish was duly conveyed to the reporters.

After the information charging him with the theft of a hand satchel from Bowes' drug store had been read, Mr. Moore asked for an enlargement until to-morrow which was granted.

—The water question is troubling the residents of the James Bay district, who were this morning loud in their cries against the present system. Residents of Montreal street say that no water can be obtained there until 11 o'clock in the morning. Yesterday they say a protest was entered by telephone to the water commissioner and a water supply was then received after 11 a. m.

—A most cordial invitation is extended to all lady Maccabees and their friends to-morrow afternoon and evening when a garden party is to be held at the home of the lady commander of Victoria Hive, Mrs. Wall, No. 23 Spring road. Refreshments will be served and a social time generally will be held, the committee in charge hoping to welcome not only the old friends of the order, but many new ones as well.

DUGDALE'S NINE AT LAST WINS GAME

Vancouver Beaten by Score of 3 to 2—Standing in Different Leagues.

Seattle, July 15.—After losing nine consecutive games to Vancouver the Seattle team took a bracer yesterday afternoon and walloped the Canucks in a spirited contest by a score of 3 to 2.

Harry Rush, the Spokane school boy, and George Engle, the premier spit ball artist, were the opposing pitchers. Harry had everything in the catalogue, and after the first two innings, when Vancouver got a couple of runs on a homer by Nordyke and a double by Quigley, helped along by Rush's bad throw and a wild pitch, there was nothing doing.

C. W. Summers, owner of the Cleveland team in the American league, who was present at the game, complimented Rush highly on his pitching.

Seattle had five men left on bases in the first two innings, owing to Bennett's inability to hit at critical moments. A wide throw by Mundorff to the plate let one over in the second. Fortier's double followed by Carney's single, which Hyatt let go through him, added another in the fourth and Cahill won the game with a homer in the fifth.

Graham's work at third was the feature of the game. Guy Meeks, of Weiser, Idaho, caught his second game, and made good. His throwing was excellent.

TWENTY EXTRA MEN FOR SHOW GROUNDS

Enquiries Earlier and Better Than Ever Before, Says J. A. Smart.

An additional force of twenty men commenced work on the buildings of the Agricultural show at the Willow beach show grounds this morning for the purpose of having all things in readiness by September 1st next. These men commenced the building of the main exhibition building this morning, which is to measure 90 feet by 200 feet, and they will be retained on this work until such time as the building is ready to receive the exhibits.

J. A. Smart reports that the entries for this year are coming in rapidly and that the space available is now almost taken up. The success of the show is assured and interest has been awakened in it throughout the country and inquiries from across the line have been received in regard to space. Mr. Smart this morning received a letter from the Hadler Dairy Produce people of Greenleaf, Wisconsin, applying for space for a large dairy product exhibit and room is to be made to accommodate the exhibitor in part if not in all.

Work on the machinery depot is going ahead and the building is now up with the exception of a small portion of the roof and the interior finishings. The foundations of the poultry hall are now completed and work is to be commenced on the walls without delay.

Large and roomy lavatories are being installed and will be commenced this week. An additional improvement to the arrangements for the four days' races which are to be held during the time of the fair is to be found in the erection of a new jockey stand which will also be commenced this week. The new stand is to be built upon up-to-date lines and will provide for full accommodation of all riders that are likely to be present. In connection with the new jockey stand there will also be a new racing paddock in which the stand will be located. The two are to be stationed to the north end of the grandstand.

It is announced that W. S. Spark, of Ashlyn Hall, Berkhampshire, England, has agreed to officiate as one of the horse judges during the coming fair. Mr. Spark is one of the most celebrated judges of horses in the world and was recently in the employ of the Imperial government. He made a tour of Canada some time ago, lecturing on the care of horses and horse breeding. He will be brought here at considerable expense to the society, who, however, are extremely gratified at being able to secure his services.
